

Deadline for Motor Vehicle Revalidation extended to 31st December, 2013.

The deadline for the motor vehicle validation exercise initiated by Uganda Revenue Authority (URA) has been extended from June 30th 2013 to December 31st 2013. “After a year we noticed that a majority of current car owners were not first time owners and the process of transferring involves considerable steps to fully transfer the vehicle,” Sarah Birungi Banage, the URA’s Spokesperson noted today. She added that a number of individuals could not trace first time owners and it is later accompanied by advertising in local dailies and swearing an affidavit in court which altogether necessitated time.

Background-

The on line validation introduced in the financial year 2012/13 requires all motor vehicle owners; commercial cars, private cars and motor cars to enter details on the old log book into the on line URA motor vehicle register to acquire new log books.

Motor vehicle owners need the new 10-digit Taxpayer Identification Numbers (TIN) to access this free facility on the URA web portal after creating an account. Validating one’s car details is free. Motor vehicle users are cautioned to be careful with the passwords to their URA accounts especially when entering details about their cars.

So what –

Motor vehicle users are encouraged to take advantage of the extension. Failure to do so by 31st December 2013 automatically makes the old log book invalid. The owner won’t be able to make any legal transactions like transfers on the said vehicles with old particulars.

What is URA doing to facilitate the registration of all motor vehicles?-

URA is embarking on a solid campaign to have everyone revalidate their vehicle before the end of the said deadline. “In these 6 months, we are extending to people with particular packages of solutions other than them coming to our offices,” Saka Martin, the Commissioner for Domestic Taxes said recently. Tax hubs specialized for target groups like those without TINs are already under way in the Central business district and are planned to roll out country wide. Under these, challenges like signing transfer forms, failure to identify the model and make of vehicles will be addressed.

Why should motorists validate their car details; what is the value addition for the vehicle users?-

Motor vehicles owners are guaranteed of securing them. The URA system alerts you through an SMS or email service to any transfers and transactions under your account by unscrupulous persons. One is therefore able to know of any illegal undertaking on his or her vehicle.

In case of stolen cars, any illegal transactions on the car are checked after you communicate the loss.

Increased and fast service delivery of motor vehicle transactions.
