COMMISSIONER GENERAL'S MESSAGE

Fellow Citizens,

Uganda Revenue Authority is pleased to present to you the tax amendments for the Financial Year 2023-24 containing changes made to several tax laws.

These amendments are in line with realizing the budget theme of "Full Monetization of the Ugandan Economy Through Commercial Agriculture, Industrialization, Expanding and Broadening Services, Digital Transformation and Market Access".

They aim, in particular, to encourage tax compliance and empower and enable our nation to domestically fund our developmental needs without relying on external help.

Some of the revisions are to expand existing taxes to cover untapped sectors or activities to bring more eligible contributors to the tax net and reduce the tax burden on existing taxpayers.

For instance, under the VAT tax head, suppliers of electronic services delivered via an online or digital network from a business location outside Uganda to a recipient in Uganda will contribute to the revenue basket because they generate revenue from Ugandans. This is important in enhancing equity and fairness in taxation.

Another significant change to the Tax Procedure Code is the waiver of interest and penalties for taxpayers who voluntarily pay the principal tax due as of June 30, 2023, by December 31, 2023. This is intended to increase compliance.

There are also several opportunities that will benefit businesses, especially those that are formalized. I, therefore, urge all businesses that are not yet formalized to register and benefit from these opportunities.

Revenue mobilization is a collective effort and I call upon each one of us to play our civic and patriotic roles. The Shs29.7 trillion target for this Financial year 23-24 may look ambitious, but it is attainable if we join our hands and hearts to build a Uganda that is prosperous, resilient, and independent.

I encourage you to get acquainted with the amendments, and if you require assistance, reach out to us using the contact details listed on the back cover of this publication.

For God and My Country.

John R. Musinguzi
Commissioner General, URA
